SANGEETHA KALARATHNA conferred on B.SHANKARA RAO

Veteran flautist B.Shankara Rao presided over the 34th music conference of the prestigious Bangalore Gayana Samaja. He led the deliberations in a befitting manner. The 8-day conference featured a good number of scholars and concerts by leading musicians.

B.Shankara Rao was presented with the title of 'Sangeetha Kalarathna' by the Education Minister Prof. B.K. Chandrasekhar at the Sadas. Dr.A.H.Rama Rao, the principal patron of GUNAGRAHI and the President of the Karnataka Gana Kala Paristhath was notable among the personalities to be honoured as 'Artise of the Year.

Pavithra's neat Bharatanatyu:

Dr K S Payothra did excelled in her Bharatanatya recital held at Navana auditorium the Every Wednesday Cultural Evening Programme series. Pavithra combined her physical attributes with dunce which was abounding incorporated both technical and emotional understanding. The eluboration of the fumous Dikshitar krithi "Votapi Ganaptim bhase" and various traits of Lord Ganesha were artistic. She had selected a Pannaiah Pillai yarna "Mohamana" in Bhuravi ragu and roopaka tala. The depiction of a navika who is tormented by the arrows of the God of Love established an immediate rapport with the audience. Her sundari neck movements, jathis and aduvus strung in varied natterns presented with equipoise elevated the proceedings on the stage. With a change in costume she entered the stage and provided an excellent abhinaya for a Purandaradasa pada 'Aada hodalle makkalu' (raeamalika). missed satwikaabhinaya in its totality. She seemed to be tired Thankfully Pavithra came out of it. And ultimately she won the hearts of the racikas with her neat the premier Suganu Sangeetha institution "Adarsha Sucama Sangeetha Academy Trust" held at ADA Rangamandira was marked by presentation of titles and performances by the students of the Academy led by a brilliant artiste and able organiser Krishnamurthy Kikkeri alone with singer-composer Vrinda Rao. Noted film music director Hamsalekha (he was presented the title of 'Adarsha Sangeetha Pathon') Dr Narahalli Balasubramanya ('Adarsha Sahithya Rathna'), Kodibosahalli Ramanna ('Adarsha Kannada Rathna'). V Nagarain (the best photographer) and J.K.Srinivasa murthy (hest film actor) were the persons who were felicitated on the occasion. Another highlight of the evening was the rendition of Kanuada poems by renowned noets in-groups, "Kodu deekshe inde" (Kuvemnu) in a big group of upcoming singers. They sang in unison and with perfect understanding. Vrinda Rao had directed 'Adiva geije naduee' (Kuvemnu) and 'Bhoomi tappida moda idda hanga' (G.P.Rajarathnam). The instrumentalists who are trained in the Academy accompanied these grouns. Needless to say, the accompanists did a commendable ioh in addine colour to the programme. The instrumentalists also rendered a couple of film sones tuned by Hamsalekha.

Sooladi nrithya:

Ponnaiah Lalitha Kala Academy led by veteran Guni Padmini Rao is now celebratine its silver juhilee year. It is proposed to have dance recitals, lecture-demonstrations etc. through out the year. As part of the celebrations an interesting 'Sulatitha nrithya' based on the Sooladi of Purandaradasa was rendered at Yavanika by the students of Nupum under the praiseworthy direction of their Guru Latitha Srinivavan Sooladi is a demandine type of composition composed by Haridasas in general and Sripadaraja, Vyasaraya and Purandaradasa in particular. Musician-scholar T.Shashi devi traced the history and evolution of Sooladis in her brief lecture.

Guru Lalitha Sriniyasan had done good work on this subject. About a decade ago, she had mathya, khanda ata tala and so Her students Ajay Vishwanath, Antara Pandya, Malayika and Chandrika Narayan vave a creditable account of their equipment. The depiction of Dashavatara was classic. The way they negotiated the rhythm was praiseworthy. Malavika and Chandrika Narayan shone forth in the portraval of a Devaranama "Kele Gooi" (ragamalika) and "Ranganyatake baarane" (Todi, the sahitya of this pada is like that of a Javali) respectively. Ajay was at home in translating the concluding Sunada Vinodini tillana into a fine dance language. Guru Lalitha Srinivasan (direction). B C Manimoath (nathiyanga: his recitation of jathis was precise), Ashwathanarayana (flute) and Narayanaswamy (mridanga) were in their top form. Annaish remembered/Nagarai and Maniunath delight:

The violinist-brother-duo Mysore M.Nagaraj and Dr. M. Manjunath gave ample proof of their stature as imaginative, discerning and versatile instrumentalists and regaled the audience at the JSS auditorium. Javanagar. The violin duet was held on the occasion of the third death anniversary of veteran violinist A. Veerabbadraiah under the banner of Sangeetha Sudhe. Late Veerabhadrajah's family members and the Sharana Sahitya Parishath deserve to be commended for the manner in which the programme was organised naid to Annaiah Veerabhadraigh was fondly known in the Karnatak music circle. Renowned scholar Prof. S.K. Ramachadrarao, A.V. Anand and Bangalore K. Venkataram spoke on the loveable personality of Veerabhadraiah who came to be known as 'the king of strings'. Astounding expertise, sensitive tonal purity and perfect intenations were the unfailing ineredients of the Nagarai and Maniunath's highly successful recital that followed. The most popular krithi in Bahudari raga 'Brova bharama' was the opening krithi. The fast-tempo swaraprastara made compelling listening. The long spell of swaras for the krithi found them in their elements. Their subsequent rendition of Thyagaraja's 'Rara mavinti daaka' (Asaveri) was moving with the right kind of oscillation of the gamakas. Shyama Sastry's 'Mariyere' (Rectigowla) with chittaiswaras was good choice and pleasant rendition too

The sabitya bhaya was in tact. Though they could have done better with a little slower pace, the rendition of Amrithavarshini had a lightning effect. The raga and the krithi 'Sudhamavi' flashed on the stage with a cascade of enticing phrases. The pentatonic raga glowed in all its splendour and scholastic details. The evenly matched brothers outwitted each other in the creation of joyful musical ambience. There was a and held. Glowing tributes were perfect unity of thought, action and skill in their more than 150minutes's recital

> The exposition of Kapi was well conceived and brilliantly executed though it could have done with a little more reposefulness. The time-tested sancharas in a mix of madhyama and mel-kaala ohrases and birkas mirrored the raga's enchanting facets sharply. Nagaraj's alapuna laid a formidable foundation for an artistic edifice of the raga. Maniu also joined his brother in an automatic action. He picked up the cues of his brother with great anticipation and instantly rounded off the sketching of the raga with captivating sangathees. The krithi 'Intha sowkhya' was ornamented with all the manodharmic exercises. The appropriate kala pramana fell pleasantly on the cars. Anur Anathakrishna Sharma and A.V.Anand supported the recital on two mridangas in an energetic and effective fashion.

Another solo violin recital by seasoned violinist Kanyakumari at Ramana Sudha Cultural Hall, Sri Ramana Maharishi Academy for Blind held under the auspices of Rama Sudha Charitable Trust had both classical vigour and artistic nunch. The Trust led by a noted academician cum philanthropist Dr A H.Rama Rao and his wife Sudha Rao has been doing yeoman service by arranging music recitals by famous artistes for the benefit of the visually impaired inmates of the Academy on every last Wednesday of the month for more than five years. That Kanyakumari is an experienced arriste both as a soloist and as an Rudranatnam brothers regale: accompanist was proved to the core. Her disciple Kannan provided the second fiddle. With young and energetic V.Praveen on mridanga, expert khanjira player B.N. Chandramowli on khaniira and sensitive R Raissekhar on morsing as her accomplished accompanists. Kanyakumari shoneforth throughout her recital. She demcontested her full control over her specially designed whitecoloured violin fitted with in-built sound amplification eader. The soft and deep notes on the notes were melodious. Her bowing was also meaningful bringing out the sahitya bhaya in full. Her fingers immed from one octave to the deer For the vocalists had dediother with ease and poise. The cated their recital for the exclushruti-aliened and delicate tone of the violin endeared itself to the listeners. The Sri raga nancharathna krithi 'Endaro Mahanubhayulu' was majestic. Kanyakumari and Kannan delighted the audience by renderine its swaras and sahitya in a rewarding manner. 'Garuda gamana' was crisp and kept up the lively tempo of the recital. She seemed to have reserved her all round mastery for the presentation of Kharaharapriya with raga. sahitva and swaravinyasus. The clarity of the text of the Thyagaraia-song 'Chakkani raja moreamu' and variety in swaras marked the rendition. Before concluding her recital she rendered 'Krishna nee begane baro' and other conticles

It is always a delight to bear to the music of Rudranatnam Brothers-R N.Thyaearaian and R N Taranath of Mysore. In the vocal duet held under the joint aceis of Hamsadhwani Creations led by singer M.S.Sheela and her husband Ramaswamy and Ananya at the latter's auditorium. the vocalists were able to present some of the best features of the melodies they chose to sine They performed on the first day of the two day third anniversary celebrations of Hamsadhwani Creations. And the concert which was held a week before the start of the Dasara festivities served

GUNAGRAHI/NOVEMBER-2002 manodharmas, nathaantaras, scholarship and expertise in their duet singing. The singers were able to present a rich variety of classical music with adequate responses from their accompanists S Seshagiri Rao (violin). C Cheliavaria (mridanea) and M.A. Krishnamurthy (ghata). Rudraputnam Brothers' exposition of a unique Bhoga Vasantha raga for a Javachamaraja Wodevar's krithi 'Amba Sri Rajarajeshwari' was exemplary. Alapana in the shadhava raga Sriraniini by Taranath and the singing of a rare Dikshitar krithi 'Sri Dum Duree' was at once authentic true to tradition giving nothing away to the popular taste and couched in the choicest graces and embellishments. Thyagarajan proved his class when he delineated Dharmayathi for another Dikshitar krithi > Tulosi was eulopised through Thyagaraja's famous krithi 'Tulasamma set to Devagandhari raga One was astonished and delighted to bear a rare raga called Harinarayani This is derived from Kharaharapriya. One has to be very alert in dealing with this raga. For, this has a close affinity with Rudrapriva raga. If you sing pa ma da ni sa, vou will get Haringrayani and if sung without as a grand reception to the Godmadhyama that is no do ni sa there appears Rudrapriva. Muthaiah Bhagayatar's 'Devi Sri Mahalakshmi" was sung in a telling manner. The artistes reached There was a harmonic blend of the acme of their ratent and scholarship in presenting a well-noanced Saveri. As expected, Mysore Sadashiyaruo's 'Sri Kanchi Kamakoti peetha' wax rendered in a leisurely gait and their manodharma became vibrunt in its ornamentation. Shyama Sastry's 'Karunanida' in Sri raga was another gem of the C.Chaithanya Kumar demonstrated his instrumental prowess with full confidence. The presentation of 'Srimannarayana' (Bhowli, Annamacharya krithi). and a raga, tana and pullavi ('Parama dayanidhe ninne nera nammiti Sadashiya pahimam") in Shuddha Saveri raea and khanda triputa tala youthed for his aesthetic and artistic abilities.

Striking duet: The vocal duet by R. K. Padmanahha D.V. Nagarajan was on the predictable lines. Padmanabha took the artistic lead while Nagarajan anointed the renditions with the aesthetics. The duet led by Padmanabha was striking and impressed the rasikus. After suluting the Lord Ganesha through 'Siddhi Vinayakam', the concert took wings in creating a lively musical atmosphere, 'Sri Venkatagireesha' (Suruti), a detaited Varali for 'Mamaya Meenakshi' with nerayal at 'Shyame' drew the thunderous applause from the rasikas. Padmanabha's single breath creations thrilled the audience. 'Dwaithamu sukhama' (Rectigowla) lent the real hanoiness of hhava and raga. The highlight of the duet was a raga, tana and pallavi (Samaganalolapaala Gopala, chaturashra triputal tala) in Todi raga. RKP's atimandra sthayi sancharas were commendable and with the same ease and flow he covered the other tristhavis. During the course of the tana one was thrilled with his varieties of tanax including Ghanta and Shankha tanus reminding one of the veteran vocalist Titte Krishna Ivengar of Mysore. Young H.N.Bhaskar (violin), Bombay Balaii (mridunga) and M.A. Krishna murthy (whata) enriched the recital with their seasoned accommuniments Prof. Vishweshwaran captivates:

One of the leading exponents of veena and an artiste known for varied abilities Prof.R. Vishweshwaran of Mysore enthralled the audience at Bangalore Gayana Samoia with his outstanding veens recital. Antly and dexterously accommunical by P.G. Lakshmi-narayana (mridanga) and G.S.Ramanujam (ghata) Vishweshwaran distributed the sweet results of his hardwork, inborn musical acumen and research to the lovers of music. It is worth noting that his style of veens play is based on gayaki (vocal music). Though the electronic gadget aided him, he was never harsh and vociferous. He combined his ingenuous artistry with the aesthetics of Karnatak music. It seemed as though the melody and rhythm were at his beck and cell. And as if the strains of music followed the course shown by the veena maestro with his right hand, "Aadaddella olite anvitu" by Purandaradasa set to Kamayardhini ruga made one glood to their seat. The rasa and sahitya bhayas merzed and emerged in an emovable combination. The drafting of the majestic raga Devugandhari on a wide cunvass suffused with details. He has several compositions with Vishweshwara' us his ankitha to his credit. He rendered one of his meritorious compositions "Antarangamunu telisi maadani" in an effective manner. This composition proved his abilities as a skilful composer. The various sections of the composition were meaningfully connected with the

The notable stage of the veessu recital was the presentation of a Mysore Vasudevacharyakrithi "Sankarshana maam palaya" in Abhogi raga. The point of particular interest was the elaboration of the raga for about 10 to 12 minutes, without the use of a single meettu (striking of the instrument). To produce sound on the veena meettus are very much necessary. What is breath and voice to a vocalist, bowing to a violinist are meetus to a veena player. But Vishweshwaran's uccomplishment of holding the attention of the rasikas without iconardizing the raga bhaya was some. thing unparalleled and unique.

on the frets and the raga roopa followed the course directed by him with his right hand which waved in the air. It was a tremendows technique of instrumental play. The continuity of the sound was totally in tact. He reached an important landmark of his recital by delineating Kambhoji for a raga, tana and pallavi. The tanamalika comprised mainly Hundusthani ragas like Lalith. Marubehag and so on. He sang and introduced his own pallavi "Payani Palini matianani nahi Trishoolini Kanalini* (in trishra triende and mishra gati with an ateetha edduppu). His own tillana in Kapi raga in ateetha graha and his favourite composition by Narasi Mehtha "Vaishnava ianato" (Khamach) were the other acenda SVN Music Academy's first anniversory:

The first anniversary of the SVN music academy was celobroted se Novarathri music festival at SSMRV auditorium. Top runking musicians provided a summtuous musical feast to the lovers of music. The combination of accompanists for the main artistes was praiseworthy. Srikenthan at the belm of affairs

Veteran vocalist R K Seikanthan was at the helm of affairs in his vocal recital with his son R.S.Ramakanth also joining him in equal measure. It is always a delight to hear to Srikanthan. This octobenarian refined singer has maintained an astonishing voice which at once metodious and is capable of any mathematical maneuvers. Right from the word on he took the audience along with him. The Vasantha varna and the Muthuswamy Dikshitar's krithi "Varasiddhi Virayukam" (Nata) laid a firm and highly classical foundation to the concert. The list of sones that he chose to present had a fine alienment of rayas, krithis and Vageeyakaras, Jayachamaraia Wodeyar's Hamsavinodini composition "Saraswathim Bhagavateem" (mishra jhumpe) and Subharaya Sastry's "Janani ninnuvina" (Rectioowla) were the examples of pure Karnatak classicism and tradition. Ruga alaruna and swarus shared by both Srikanthan and Ramakanth in Hindola was an elevating experirelishable items of his concertence indeed. Dikshitar's "Neerajakshi Kamakshi" confirmed the design of the raga swarnoosi. Thyagaraia's 'Nannaii kanna talli" (Sindhu Kannada raga: a junya raga of 28th Metakartha Harikamhhoji) was sune in a telling manner. The grand guit of Dwijavanthi for "Akhilundeshwari" was impressive. Shyama Sastry's "Palimcha Kamakshi" (Madhyamayathi) was yet another rem-item of the

recital Able Aruna Saverram:

Aruna Sayceram regaled the avid audience with her effective artistry and musical equipment. I was reminded of the great vocalist Patternal on several occasions. There was a solidity of phrasing and the vitamba kala that Aruna had adapted was rewarding. The Nata, Kedara and Katyani (Oottukkadu Venkata subbaiver's composition) compositions vouched for her seasoned musicianship. She sang hhajans, ahhangas and padas in different languages including Marathi. The highlight of her recital was the rendition of a rage, tana and natlavi. With Nalina Mohan as her efficient violin accompanist. Aruna evoked mixed reactions in its rendition. She sang raga and tana in Madhyamayathi with some pleasing phrases. Tristhavis were covered with ease and poise. There was ebb and flow of music. She began with the pallavi BhagyadaLakshmi baaramma nammammunee", the first line of the Purandara dasa pada. After short mathematical floorishes, she switched over in ragamalika swaras. But everytime she sane a rana she replaced the subitya with the names of the Ashta Lakshmis, Thus Todi (Adi Lakshmi), Kuranii (in madhyama shruti, Dhanya Lakshmi), Athana (Dhairva Lakshmi), Mohana (Gau-Lakshmi). Sahana (Santhana Lakshmi) Ranjini (Virrya lakshmi) Bhairavi (Ishwarya Lakshmi) and Lalitha (Dhana Lakshmi) were used to eulogize different Lakshmis. Aruna sane the first line of the prominent krithis in the ragas like Kuranii (Ksheerandhi kannike) and Lalitha (Hiran mayeem) alone with the Auha Lakshmi sahitya. She rounded off her exercise by singing all the ragas in a single string. O

THE SARVABHOWMA VEENA

Veena, the most ancient instrument since the Vedic times occupies a prime place in the realm of classical music. It has gone through various modifications since then.

im of classical music. It has gone through various modifications since then.

Karnataka Kala Sri C.Natarajan, manufacturer of musical instruments with a rich experience of over 35 years and the proprietor of Shiva Musiculs Bangalore –566003, thought of creating a huge Veena (10 feet in length), probably the first of its kind in the world, with some rare and unique features. According to him, he got inspired by Saraswathi, the Goddessof Knowledge and wisdom and has ven-

The most remainingful first law to Mahan this wall to admit a distribution of Thypeagrais's simmorth side of the resonator one finds the carvings of the Musical Trinity Thypeagrais, Mushwamy Dekter, Shyang Shastri and the celebrated saints Purandaradasa, Kanaka Dasa and Sri Raghavendra Swamy. Apart from these, below the anchor we have the cosmic dancer 'Nataraja'. The neck portion consists of Goddess Rajarajes wari, Lord Muruga and Lord Anjaneya. The bridge is also designed in a special aesthetic way, in the form of Elephants.

Then on the right side of the Dandi, we find the representation of seven animals starting from Peackock Bull, Goat, Kroncha, Cuckoo, Hone and Elephant whose calls represent the natural seven notes or the Saphawara. On the left side one finds the pictures of the presiding Delicien of the printendial seven notes like Agni, Boharia, Saraward, Brisva, Vashun, Ganesha and Surya along with the seven colours, depicting the aesthetic sense of the artist. The melal (2 mm bars stods) are traditionally mounted on the wase platform.

Carving on the yali or the end portion of the Veena depicts the Map of India with the tri-colour, representing our eternal values and culture. Thus, considering all the above features, this Veena is indeed an unique contribution to the musical world.

MUMBAI MEETS Six hours' of sensational music

from Teen Devivan Paneham Nishada had organised a six hours of music concerts by three of India's most familiar female vocalists. Kishori Amonkar, Girija Devi and Parveen Sulthana sang at the Shanmukhananda Hall on the Gandhi Javanthi Day. One was happy to listen to late morning and afternoon ragas from them which is a rarity.

Parveen Sulthana was superb in the elegant delineation of Miyan-ki-Todi. The vilambit 'Aai tera him naam jap karo' was enjoyable. A short piece in Ambika Sarang and a bhajan was sung with effortless ease. Mohd Dholmuri (harmonium) and Mukund Raideo (tabla) provided a perfect foil Veteran Girija Devi began with an immaculate khayal in Jaunpuri. She enthralled the audience by singing a tappa, a thumri in Mishra Pilu and Jhoola. Purushottam Walwalker (harmonium), Ancesh Pradhan (tabla), Dhruba Gosh (Sarangi) and her disciple Roona Sarkar (vocal support) lent excellent support.

Kishori Amonkar began the concert around I P.M. She got off to a slow start on Gowd Sarang. She unleashed magical phrases and masterly taans. A piece in Soor Sarang was melodic. She concluded with Bhairavi. Her favourite 'Babul mora' moved the audience. Walwalkar (harmonium) Milind Raiker (vio. lin) and Balakrishna Iyer (tabla) gave able support. These sessions drew a housefull audience which included famed actors Shashikapoor, Producer Vijay Anand and Gazal singer Rajendra Mehta Navarathri music concerts

Mysore Sangeetha Vidvalaya held a Youth music festival for three days during the Dusara in the premises of Sri Guruvayur Appan Temple, Dombivili, Mumbai. On the day one. the senior students of the Vidyalaya Mahalakshmi and Sukanya along with their troupe performed with ease and featured several Devi krithis

On the second and third day of the festival, the Vidwath students of the Vidyalaya Subramanya and Sowmya endeared themselves to the rasikas with their neat raggalangnas, neravals and kalpanaswaras Accompanied by Anuthama (violin) and Venkataraman (mridanga) both of them were appreciated by the large gathering On the Vijayadashami day, Vidyalaya celebrated Sri Sharada pooja. Reputed singer and the principal of the Vidvalava Uma Nagabhushan directed a group performance by her students featuring extensively 20 krithis on Saraswathi ranging from the famous pillari geetha 'Vara Voena' (Mohana) to Dikshitar's 'Saraswatheem Bhagayatheem', Rajeshwari (violin) and Venkataraman (mridanga) were the accompanists.--FOC. ٥
